

Question 31–40

Complete the notes below.

Write ONE WORD ONLY for each answer.

The Red King Crab

Introduction

- The Red King Crab is migrating into European waters from the far 31. _____.
- Its rapid spread threatens local marine species such as 32. _____, which it preys on.

Physical characteristics

- The Red King Crab has a deep red 33. _____, that develops after several molts.
- Juvenile crabs often remain in 34. _____ waters where predators are fewer.

Migration behaviour

- When travelling in large groups, the crabs damage long stretches of 35. _____.
- During 36. _____, they tend to move into deeper water.

Impact on people

- Fishermen complain that their 37. _____ are frequently damaged.
- Some communities are concerned about the effect on their local 38. _____.

Management and control

- In the 1960s, Soviet 39. _____ intentionally introduced the Red King Crab to boost fishery production.
- Today, environmental 40. _____ warn that its ecological impact may be greater than expected.

south octopuses shell shallow coastlines winter nets shore engineers scientists