

Questions 31-40.

Complete the notes below.

Write ONE WORD ONLY for each answer.

Crocodile Study

Background

- Type of crocodile studied: crocodiles found in salt water
- Location of study: Northern Territory, Australia
- Significance of study: unique because it was the first time a 31. _____ had been used to track crocodiles

Previous studies

- done using 32. _____
- stressful method, also unreliable due to loss of the 33. _____

Reasons for study

- the management of crocodiles by the government may not be effective

Research questions

- How far can crocodiles travel?
- How easily can crocodiles 34. _____?

Challenge

- crocodiles are difficult to observe because they avoid 35. _____

Details of study

- number of crocodiles involved: three
- method: crocodiles were measured and tagged then relocated using a 36. _____
- monitoring: scientists got data from a transmitter located on the crocodile's 37. _____

Results of study

- Each crocodile first stayed at the site for a few weeks, moving in a random way
- Then took the most 38. _____ way home

Conclusions

- A change in policy is needed
- When travelling long distances, crocodiles may use
 - their own senses and the position of the 39. _____
 - a similar system to 40. _____

satellite

radio

signal navigate people

helicopter

head direct

sun

birds